

To whom it may concern

Stuttgart, 31st of January 2011

Recommendation concerning Mr. Dimitrije Vujadinovic

Dear Sirs

For the third time in 2011 the Belgrade based Balkankult Foundation is organizing the international Ex libris competition. For the two first editions the competition was dedicated to a specific topic with the intent of initiating an intercultural dialogue among artists. The latest exhibition, presenting selected works from the Ex libris competition 2010 'Bread – Cultural Heritage', was exhibited in the Museum of Bread Culture in Ulm, Germany from June to September 2010, and was visited by over 9000 visitors. The third edition, which will be dedicated to the topic Danube Route of Culture – Kulturstraße, is now in its realization phase.

Mr. Dimitrije Vujadinovic who contributed considerably to the renaissance of a new cultural policy in Serbia after 2001 asked me to write a recommendation for him and his competition Danube – Route of Culture – Kulturstraße with the intent of finding an institution interested in partner- or sponsorship. It is a real pleasure for me to recommend Mr. Vujadinovic whose work and dedication to European culture I am very much admiring and to recommend the Balkankult Foundation with which Akademie Schloss Solitude is now cooperating for two years.

I am very sure that the third edition of the Ex libris competition will be a success like the two first were.

With best regards

Prof. Jean-Baptiste Joly
Director